Books

Books Appropriate for Children

A Birthday Present for Daniel

Juliet Rothman

- A little girl's brother has died. She shares with readers what this means to her. She tries to understand her own feelings and those of her mother, father, and sister, illustrating that there are different ways that people can react when someone they love dies.

A Child Remembers

Enid Samuel Traisman

- This colorful journal helps children grieve. Pages include writing about memories of the loved one, a goodbye letter, and a story "About Us." There are also pages to draw out the feelings and meaning of the loss.

A Complete Book about Death for Kids

Earl Grollman & Joy Johnson

- This friendly, inviting book for children 6 and older gently explains death as a part of life. It offers reassurance for the confusing feelings children experience when someone dies.

A Grief Guide & Healing Workbook

Paul Alexander

- The companionable texts of this workbook quietly lead into writing exercises and guided visualizations.

A Keepsake Book of Special Memories

Laurie Van-Si & Lynn Powers

- This prepared book enables children to take an active role in their own healing and in gathering memories to hold for a lifetime.

A Season for Mangoes

Regina Hanson & Eric Velasquez

- Sareen tells her stories of Nana's last mango season and their search for the perfect mango, but she's afraid the words won't come or that she'll begin to cry. It's only when Sareen faces her fear that she realizes it's not the sadness of Nana's death that she'll remember best but the joy of Nana's life.

The Moyer Foundation's National Bereavement Resource Guide

A Taste of Blackberries

Doris Buchanan Smith

- This book tells the story of a young boy and how he deals with the sudden death of his best friend due to an allergic reaction to a bee sting.

A Terrible Thing Happened

Margaret Holms

- This is a wonderful book for teachers or parents to use with younger children. It uses a fun character to show different emotions that children have after witnessing or being a part of something that is traumatic to them.

A Volcano in My Tummy: Helping Children to Handle Anger

Elaine Whitehouse & Warwick Pudney

- Children who experience grievous losses of all kinds experience a multitude of intense emotions. Some, like anger, can be difficult to manage as the child or teen may lack competency in handling them. This book will help caring adults provide coaching and guidance to 6-15 year olds on how they can understand and channel their anger so they can live successful, non-hurtful lives.

Aarvy Aardvark Finds Hope

Donna O'Toole

- With the help of his friend Ralphy Rabbit, Aarvy Aardvark comes to terms with the loss of his mother and brother.

About Dying: An Open Family Book for Parents and Children Together

Sara Stein

- This book puts death in very concrete, easy to understand terms for young children, starting with their common experiences and graduating up to the death of a family member.

After a Murder: A Workbook for Grieving Kids

The Dougy Center Staff

- An interactive workbook that helps to explain confusing elements specific to a murder.

After a Suicide: A Workbook for Kids

The Dougy Center Staff

- Workbook for children who have been exposed to a suicide.

The Moyer Foundation's National Bereavement Resource Guide

After Charlotte's Mom Died

Cornelia Spelman

- After Charlotte's mother's sudden death, Charlotte and her father are devastated. A counselor helps them find ways to talk and to build hope for their futures. Realistic facial expressions and body language in the softly colored illustrations complement the clarity of this story for children aged grades K-4.

After the Funeral

- This book is an essential resource for teachers with step-by-step information about what to say and do - and what not to say and do - following a death.

The Forgotten Mourners

Susan Smith

- Smith begins by outlining how children grieve in the same way adults grieve - with the same range of emotions from feelings of shock and disbelief to numbness, despair, anger and guilt.

The Last Chance: Encountering Death and Dying

Lynne Ann DeSpelder & Albert Lee Strickland

- Integrating the experiential, scholarly, social, individual, emotional, and intellectual dimensions of death and dying.

The Wisdom of Dying: Practices for Living

Michael Murphy

- In these precious personal and family stories, the lessons of living can be passed on, he explains.

Voices of Bereavement: A Casebook for Grief Counselors

Joan Beder

- Theory is blended with practical suggestions for intervention and a discussion of the counselor's struggles.
